SANDPOINT BAND

This Band has no Reserve set aside for its own use.

Members of this Band reside at various Reserves in the District of Thunder Bay.

As of June 1, 1976, the population of this Band is 34.

WHITESAND BAND

This Band has no Reserve.

Members of this Band live at Armstrong, Ferland, Collins and Aroland.

While White Sands River Reserve #81 is shown on most provincial maps, it is no longer a Reserve. In 1919, it was erroneously shown on the map as a Reserve. Whitesand Band had a license to occupy and use the land. By 1962, most families had left and in 1970, the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development relinquished title back to the Province of Ontario.

The Band's population as of June 1, 1976 is 295.

The Following Two Reserves are Unoccupied and Have No Particular Band Affiliations:

McIntyre Bay Reserve #54 (Unoccupied)

This is not an Indian Reserve, within the true meaning of the Indian Act.

It was established for use by Indians of the locality; no particular Band.

It is comprised of 585 acres, on the south shore of Lake Nipigon, in the Nipigon Forest Reserve, in the District of Thunder Bay.

Jackfish Reserve #57 (Unoccupied) ..

This is not a Reserve within the true meaning of the Indian Act.

It was established for use by Indians of the locality; no particular Band.

It is comprised of two portions; the western part of a small island, near the west shore of Lake Nipigon, and a part on the mainland opposite the island in the District of Thunder Bay.

Total acreage of this Reserve is 362.8 acres.
